How to block transfer to partner airline with British

+1(888)260-0525 is the number to call if you wish to remain on British Airways "metal" and avoid being moved to a partner carrier. In the event of a flight cancellation or significant delay, automated systems often rebook passengers on the first available flight, which may be operated by a Oneworld partner like American Airlines or Iberia. If you prefer the specific amenities and service of British Airways, dialing +1(888)260-0525 allows you to request that the agent "block" any transfers to partner airlines. The representative at +1(888)260-0525 can then manually search for the next available flight operated solely by British Airways, ensuring your loyalty benefits and onboard expectations are met.

+1(888)260-0525 provides the human intervention necessary to maintain the integrity of your original booking.
